Containing the Names of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines of all the wars of our country who are buried in the cemeteries of Cook County, or the Garden of the Dead, together with the military record and place of burial of each of them as completely as they can be ascertained.

"The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldiers' last tattoo;
No more on life's parade shall meet
The brave and daring few.
On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The Bivouac of the Dead."

Monument in Calvary Cemetery to the memory of Col. James A. Mulligan, who was mortally wounded at the Battle of Kernstown, Virginia, and who died two days afterward, July 26, 1864. When comrades came to his assistance on the field he commanded them in these memorable words: "Lay Me Down and Save the Flag." A patriotic song with these words for its title was written by an eminent composer and forms a glorious addition to the stirring history of the Civil War.

The Blue and the Gray

There died in Camp Douglas Prison from '61 to '65, 4,457 Confederate Soldiers. These are buried in a lot, owned by the government, in Oakwoods Cemetery. This lot, or Confederate Mound, as it is called, is held in trust by the "Ex-Confederate Association of Chicago." Permission was obtained by this Association from the Secretary of War to erect a monument on this lot to the memory of their comrades buried here. Under this authority they have erected a splendid monument costing about $10,000, which was contributed by the patriotic, broad-minded, whole souled, and generous hearted citizens of Chicago. There are also buried in this lot twelve Union Soldiers whose graves are properly marked by headstones. So that here lie side by side, in peace, the blue and the gray.

"No more shall the war-cry sever
Or the winding river be red,
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!

"Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgment Day;
Love and tears for the Blue,
Tears and love for the Gray."

INTRODUCTION

The compiler desires to express his gratitude to the many citizens' and soldiers' organizations which have assisted him in gathering the names and information required for this work. It would be a difficult matter to mention the name of anyone in particular because all have seemed to be anxious that no soldiers' graves in this county should be overlooked, which is all for the benefit of the future historian and the descendants of the heroes of all wars.

No author or compiler could be expected to be accurate in a work of this character considering the many different sources from which the information has been derived, and any errors that may appear in their military or naval record should be overlooked.

This work, when completed, will be, so far as known, the only book containing the names and records of all the soldiers and sailors who have died and were connected in any way with this county as the place of their enlistment or burial. Cook County is the only county in the United States that has such a record (names and burial places) of all the soldiers of the county.

We must not forget the assistance given to this work in its early stages by Comrades Frank Smith, Joseph Simons, George W. Wade and Charles E. Sinclair.

The historical and literary part of this book was prepared by Comrade J. Seymour Currey of the John A. Logan Post, Number 540, Grand Army of the Republic, under the direction and with the advice of the Compiler, E. R. Lewis.

All branches of the service are represented among the deceased soldiers of the Civil War. There are commanders, eminent and brave officers, as well as many thousands of those who served in the ranks.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF COOK COUNTY

On January 3, 1922, Comrade E. R. Lewis of the "Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Association" appeared before the County Commissioners of Cook County, and addressed them, as follows:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen of the County Board of Commissioners of Cook County: As Chairman of the Committee on Cemeteries and location of the graves of soldiers, sailors and marines of Cook County since 1884, I appear before you as a representative of the Cook County Memorial Association to ask you to publish in book form the names of all the United States soldiers, sailors and marines who have died in Cook County, with their military record and place of burial as a guide and assistance to those who decorate the graves on Memorial Day, May 30, each year. It will also be of vast importance to future generations and the descendants of those who fought in all the wars of our country who are interred in the county.

The work when completed will be of more importance and more lasting than any other Memorial that can be built of granite or bronze, as the books will be placed in historical societies and public libraries throughout the county; also in the Adjutant General's office at Springfield.

The total number that have died in the county, both Union and Confederate, will be approximately about 17,000. Trusting that your honorable body will act favorably in this matter, this request is submitted."

By a roll call of the members of the County Board of Cook County Commissioners, the following members answered to their names to vote unanimously to defray all the necessary expenses of publishing a complete roster of the Roll of Honor of those who died in Cook County, and any other matter that will pertain to the records of soldiers that enlisted from Cook County in all the wars, from the Black Hawk War down to and including the World War:

Daniel Ryan, president; Bartly Burg, William Busse, Joseph Carolan, Joseph M. Fitzgerald, Charles N. Goodnow, William Hector Maclean, Robert W. McKinlay, George A. Miller, Albert Nowak, Tom Murray, Dudley D. Pierson, Emmett Whealan and Frank J. Wilson.

CEMETERIES IN CHICAGO

No stated places for the burial of the dead were located in Chicago, says Andreas in his history, until 1835; and when eventually locations were provided by the city authorities the rapid growth in population made in the new settlement, they were soon found inadequate. Interments among the settlers in early times were often made at or near the residences of the deceased at the time of death. "Later," says Andreas, "the settlements about the 'Forks' (as the point where the two branches of the Chicago river flowed together was called) had a common 'acre' on the West Side of the North Branch where the dead were buried."

In 1847, the "Chicago Cemetery" was laid out on land which in later years formed a part of the present site of Lincoln Park. It then became known as the "City Cemetery." In 1865, the city authorities decided to remove the bodies which had been interred on this tract to other cemeteries which had in the meantime been established—Calvary, Rosehill, Oak Woods, Graceland, Jewish, Wunders, and others.

The removals were intended to include the bodies of those soldiers who had died of cholera in 1832 (during the Black Hawk War) which had been hastily buried near the corner of Lake Street and Wabash Avenue, but the bodies thus removed were not properly identified at the time and many bodies were entirely overlooked.

"In later days," says Andreas, "the forgotten graves were often opened in excavating which has led to much speculation as to whom the disinterred remains belonged." As early as 1849, the Daily Democrat recorded the fact that during the spring freshets "two coffins were seen floating down the river, supposed to have been from some small burying ground on the North Branch." Thus it is seen how difficult has become the task after these numerous removals of recovering the names and final resting places of the soldiers whose remains are now lying somewhere within the limits of the present County of Cook.

Historical Note

The following note is of importance in this connection. At a meeting held in the Sherman House in Chicago, May 7, 1887, it is recorded that "Comrade E. R. Lewis moved that a committee of five be appointed to obtain the names of all the deceased soldiers in the several cemeteries, and to have them arranged alphabetically in book form with the locations of the graves."

The following committee was appointed:

SOUGHT SOLDIERS' GRAVES

Comrade E. R. Lewis' Work Revealed Resting-places of Veterans
May 30, 1901

To the efforts of Comrade E. R. Lewis, of John A. Logan Post, is due the fact that few soldiers' graves are without their share of blossoms today. Since 1884 Mr. Lewis has made it his duty to seek out the forgotten or unknown graves of men who fought in the Civil War and to record them so that on Memorial Day they will not be passed by. In the seventeen years that have elapsed there have been identified and placed on record 4,500 resting-places of the soldier dead. The roster includes the military record of each veteran, and it is one of the most valued possessions preserved in Memorial Hall.

Seventeen years ago there were only seven cemeteries in Cook County where soldiers' graves were decorated May 30. This year squads of veterans visited seventy-five graveyards with flowers, thanks to Comrade Lewis' investigations. There are about 950 soldiers buried at Rosehill, 650 at Graceland, 600 at Oak Woods, 240 at Calvary, 220 at Forest Home and 115 at Waldheim. Some of the country burying grounds have but one or two soldier graves. Not one of them was neglected, however.

Soldiers Buried in the Cemeteries of Cook County

In preparing a list of the men who at one time or another have been buried in the cemeteries of Cook County, and who participated in the various wars of the republic, there arises the question of the names of such soldiers and the dates of their burial as well as the total number of men who have entered the military or naval service of the nation from the County.

In the office of the Adjutant General of Illinois at Springfield a list has been preserved giving names, numbers and dates, so far as the state of Illinois is concerned, and from the reports issued and published by that office the statistics in this work are summarized. Under the headings of the various wars which these records represent the principal information has been derived.

The Union Ridge Cemetery, located on Higgins Road near Norwood Park, is the oldest cemetery in Cook County. The first burial was that of Henry Smith, in 1841, and it has been in continuous use as a cemetery ever since. The cannon in the picture is the monument of Benjamin F. Butler Post No. 734, G. A. R.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR

It is a part of our national history that several important operations of the Revolutionary War took place within the present limits of the state of Illinois, which was then an unorganized territory known simply as the "Illinois Country," and was held by the British. General George Rogers Clark, known as "the conqueror of Illinois," captured Kaskaskia in 1778 and raised the American flag over the fort there situated.

Although the period of this war long antedates the formation of a territorial or state form of government in Illinois, yet there was a "County of Illinois" formed as a part of the western possessions of Virginia in 1778, a few months after General Clark's conquest. This "mother of counties" (as it has been called) was divided into the counties as we now know them at later periods. Cook County is a part of the original County of Illinois.

In the later years of the Revolutionary War, namely in 1780, a battle was fought in the neighborhood of South Chicago between a raiding force of British and Indians on one side and an irregular force of seventeen American soldiers on the other. The attack was made by the British and Indians and in the fight which followed four of the Americans were killed including their leader, Capt. J. B. Hamelin, three escaped by flight into the woods, and the rest taken prisoners. The names of those who lost their lives, except that of the leader (Hamelin) cannot be ascertained, but the action in which they fell was that mentioned above as having taken place "in the neighborhood of South Chicago," and quite possibly within the present limits of Cook County.

In the years subsequent to the Revolutionary War there were many veteran Revolutionary soldiers among the arriving settlers from the east who were finally buried at different points throughout the state. One such soldier of the Revolution was David Kennison whose body now lies in Lincoln Park, Chicago. Kennison died February 24, 1852, at the extremely advanced age of 115 years, 3 months and 17 days, which fact is well authenticated. He was buried in the old city cemetery with the highest military and civil honors. The grave was not disturbed by the authorities when the bodies were removed from the old cemetery in the process of converting the site of that cemetery to park purposes in 1863. This park is now known as Lincoln Park. The bronze inscription placed on a boulder recites the dates of his birth and death, and that the boulder marking his grave was placed there by the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution.

In a monthly periodical, entitled "The Hamiltonian," published by the Hamilton Club of Chicago, in its issue for June, 1913, it is stated by a contributor, that during his campaigns Gen. George Rogers Clark had from first to last some 600 soldiers under his command, during the seven years of that war, and that 391 Revolutionary Soldiers are buried in the state of Illinois. Following this article is given a list of the names of those who have been buried in the various counties of the state as ascertained in the year mentioned in the publication. The writer adds that among the settlers arriving in the years subsequent to the Revolutionary War there were many veterans who came from Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and elsewhere, whose remains are buried within the limits of the State of Illinois and whose names are thus preserved.

Mr. James Edgar Brown, the writer of the article noticed above, also states that "the Daughters of the American Revolution in the state of Illinois are performing an historic-patriotic service in ascertaining the names, verifying the records, and locating and marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers who are buried beneath the soil of this commonwealth. These patriotic women, co-operating with the descendants of these soldiers, in grateful recognition of the services rendered their country, in many counties of the state have erected monuments and placed tablets of enduring bronze and stone to the memory of these heroic men."

David Kennison

The Revolutionary hero whose body lies in Lincoln Park was named David Kennison of whom we will here give a brief account. Kennison was born in 1737 and lived in Lebanon, Maine, when the news was received that three British ships loaded with tea had arrived at Boston. The colonists had determined that no tea should be received in American ports because of the tax which the British government insisted should be paid. A party of twenty-four men, of which Kennison was a member, marched to Boston, disguised as Indians, and these being joined by others went on board the ships and threw their cargoes into the harbor. Kennison's name is mentioned by Lossing as one who participated in this exploit.

Kennison was present at the battle of Lexington and Bunker Hill and was with Washington in his campaigns in New York and

New Jersey, finally being taken prisoner. Having survived many perils during the War of the Revolution he settled down as a farmer in Vermont. During the War of 1812 he was again in the army and participated in it throughout, suffering a serious wound in one of the battles.

About 1845 Kennison came to Chicago where he lived in extreme poverty, being obliged to depend on his pension of $96 per annum for subsistence. After his death which occurred at Chicago, at the age of 115 years and 3 months, his remains were followed to the place of burial by various civic and military bodies. He had expressed a wish before his death that his funeral should be conducted with military honors and he did not forget to bespeak the generosity of our citizens for compensation to "the worthy family who so kindly ministered to his wants." The City Council had voted him a grave in the old cemetery. At his funeral an artillery company fired minute guns and a squad fired a volley over his grave while a fife and drum corps played "taps."

In 1903 the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution placed a boulder over the grave of David Kennison to which there is attached a bronze tablet with a suitable inscription. It was an appropriate act on the part of the Sons and Daughters of the Revolution to seek out and mark the grave of this Revolutionary hero with a granite boulder and tablet of bronze; and it is a privilege to have his grave and monument in our most lovely park, and for us here to record this brief sketch of his life.

Aaron Miner

A soldier of the Revolutionary War who is buried in Elk Grove cemetery in Cook County was Aaron Miner. This man was from Woodbury, Connecticut, who came west with his wife and three sons and settled at Elk Grove in 1833, and died there March 29, 1849. He had a distinguished ancestry dating centuries back to the Wars of the Roses in England. One of the later ancestors emigrated to New England in 1630. Miner's Revolutionary War services "were around Lakes George and Champlain, and at St. Johns and Montreal." He was a pensioner of the United States government at the time of his death.

THE WAR OF 1812

The principal event of the War of 1812 affecting the inhabitants of the present County of Cook was the massacre at Fort Dearborn which took place on August 15, 1812, at Chicago. An order had been received by Captain Nathan Heald, then in command of Fort Dearborn, from Gen. William Hull whose headquarters were at Detroit, to evacuate the fort and proceed to Fort Wayne. The fort was threatened with an attack by the Indians of the Pottawatomie tribe then assembled in large numbers in its vicinity. These Indians were allies of the British with whom the United States was at war.

Fort Dearborn was built in 1803 and at the time of which we are writing consisted of a garrison of fifty-five U. S. regulars, and twelve militia enrolled from the settlers and traders living in the neighborhood of the fort. The evacuation took place on the 15th of August, a few weeks after war had been declared between the two nations mentioned. There were in the procession which left the fort on that day sixty-seven soldiers (as mentioned above) besides nine women, eighteen children and two civilians. Captain William Wells with a force of thirty Miami scouts who were supposed to be friendly to the whites had arrived three days before from Fort Wayne to escort the garrison to that point in accordance with the orders of Gen. Hull, but they took no part in the defense of the force they were escorting as they fled at the first fire. Out of ninety-six persons leaving the fort (not counting the cowardly Miami scouts) there were killed thirty-nine soldiers, two women and twelve children (a total of fifty-three), and the rest were taken prisoners. All of the women and children who survived the massacre were carried off into captivity by the Indians. Some of the soldiers who were taken prisoners were afterwards killed by the Indians and the fort was burned the next day.

The circumstances under which these deaths occurred were such that no civilized burials took place, as can very well be understood. It was not until four years had elapsed, in 1816, when a force of United States regulars arrived on the scene to rebuild the fort, that the bodies of those killed in the massacre were found lying unburied on the spot where they fell. Their bones were gathered up and suitable interments were made in the fort burying ground. But all knowledge of the exact location of these graves has long since been lost.

The site of this terrible massacre was in later years marked by the erection of a bronze group situated at the foot of Eighteenth street on the lake shore, adjoining the tracks of the Illinois Central Railway.

This monument was placed there through the generosity of Mr. George M. Pullman. On the base of the monument a suitable inscription has been placed.

WINNEBAGO WAR

There is found in most of the histories pertaining to the region where Cook County is now situated brief accounts of the so-called "Winnebago War" of 1827. The soldiers who served in this war were formed into independent companies and battalions. They were mostly recruited in the southern part of the state, and the frontier settlement at Chicago with its scanty population does not appear to have taken any part in the war other than getting greatly excited and alarmed over a fear of attack which never came. There were some collisions between the whites and the Indians in the western part of the state but the Indians became peaceful once more and the alarm subsided.

Massacre Monument situated at the foot of 18th street, Chicago, Illinois.

Monument consisting of a group of figures in bronze placed at Eighteenth street adjoining the tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad, erected through the generosity of George M. Pullman as a gift to the people of Chicago. The scene represents an episode in the terrible massacre at the evacuation of Fort Dearborn, August 15, 1812.

- BLACK HAWK WAR

Formation of a Company in Chicago

On May 3, 1832, a muster roll of volunteers appears in the Adjutant General's Report, as follows:

We, the undersigned, agree to submit ourselves, for the time being, to Gholson Kercheval, Captain, and George W. Dale and John S. C. Hogan, First and Second Lieutenants, as commanders of the militia of the town of Chicago, until all apprehension of danger from the Indians may have subsided:

Richard J. Hamilton	Jedediah Wooley
Jesse B. Brown	George H. Walker
Isaac Harmon	A. W. Taylor
Samuel Miller	James Kinzie
John F. Herndon	David Pemeton
Benjamin Harris	James Ginsday
S. T. Gage	Samuel Dehalf
Rufus Brown	John Wellmaker
Jeremiah Smith	William H. Adams
Herman S. Bond	James T. Osborne
William Smith	E. D. Harmon
Isaac D. Harmon	Charles Moselle
Joseph Laframboise	Francis Labaque
Henry Boucha	Michael Ouilmette
Claude Laframboise	Christopher Shedaker
J. W. Zarley	David McKee
David White	Ezra Bond
William Bond	Robert Thompson
Samuel Ellis

A battalion under the command of Maj. N. Buckmaster was enrolled and organized July 23, 1832, and mustered out on August 15th of the same year. This short term of service was doubtless owing to the brevity of the campaign as Black Hawk was defeated in his last desperate engagement with the United States regulars at the Battle of Bad Axe, August 2, 1832, and the war was at end.

The members of this battalion were all residents of Cook County at the time of their enrollment. Their names and ranks were as follows: Holden Seission, Captain; Robert Stephens, First Lieutenant; William H. Bradford, Second Lieutenant. The sergeants were: James Sayres, Uriah Wentworth, John Cooper, Abraham Franciss; the corporals were: Armstead Runyan, Thomas Coons, Edward Poor, Cornelius C. Van Horn. The privates were:

William Barlow	Selah Lamphear
Joseph Cox	Aaron More
Timothy B. Clarke	David Maggard
Barrett Clarke	Benjamin Maggard
William Clarke	John McDeed
William Chapman	James McDeed
David Crandell	Daniel Mack

O. L. Turner
Abraham Van Horne
Simon C. Van Horne
Aaron Wares
John Wilson

The spelling of these names is the same as given in the Adjutant General's report.

The following certificate is attached to the muster roll:

I certify on honor that the Company of Mounted Volunteers, under the immediate command of Capt. Holden Seission, was organized for temporary purposes on the 23d of July 1832, by the advice and consent of Major-General Scott, for the protection of the frontier, in Cook County, State of Illinois, which organization was recommended and approved by the said Major-General Scott (in consequence of the mustering two companies out of service which constituted part of the guard for the protection of the frontier under my command); that this organization was necessary for the protection of the frontier; that said company should be in service, and that they did actually perform the service, as mentioned in said roll, up to the 13th of August, 1832, under my command as Major of an Odd Battalion, wherein said company formed a part.

Given under my hand, at Edwardsville, August 19th, 1833.

(Signed) N. Buckmaster, Major Commanding.

The governor's certificate is attached, as follows:

I certify that, at the time mentioned in the muster roll of Capt. Seisson's company of Mounted Volunteers, the above named Nathaniel Buckmaster was legally acting as Major in an Odd Battalion, including said company, and commissioned by me in that office, and, judging from the certificates of the said Major Buckmaster and Captain Seission, I have no doubt said company served as stated in said roll; and I state further, that the service of said company was necessary in the defense of the country, as stated above.

The Governor's Certificate

I certify that at the time mentioned in the muster roll of Capt. Joseph Napier's Company of Mounted Volunteers, the above named Nathaniel Buckmaster was legally acting as Major in an Odd Battalion including said company, and commissioned by me in that office, and judging from the certificates of Major Buckmaster and Capt. Napier, I have no doubt said company served as stated in said roll; and I further state that the service was necessary in the defense of the country, as stated above.

(Signed) John Reynolds,

Governor and Commander-in-Chief Illinois Militia.

August 20, 1833.

I further certify that the United States furnished no forage for the within company, and the said company was in service when I was mustered out of service on August 13, 1832.

(Signed) N. Buckmaster, Major Commanding.

THE MEXICAN WAR

There was an interval of fourteen years from the close of the Black Hawk war before the next war in which our country participated occurred. This was the Mexican War which began in 1846 and continued until 1848. On account of its rapid growth in population the state of Illinois (which had been admitted as a state in the Union in 1818) was able to furnish six regiments for service in this war. These regiments were numbered from one to six, and participated in campaigns on the border and in Mexico proper. At the close of the war they were regularly disbanded, but when the Civil War broke out in 1861 the regiments thereafter formed were numbered from the sixth onward, those numbered from one to six being regarded as having established a permanent place in the military annals of the state.

The Mexican War was the occasion of that remarkable poem of Theodore O'Hara's known as the "Bivouac of the Dead," passages from which are made use of in numerous inscriptions in our National Cemeteries, and a stanza of which is printed on the title page of this book. While the poem was composed in honor of Kentucky soldiers who fell in the Mexican War (whose bodies had been brought home for burial) yet they were American soldiers and were entitled to the same honors that we are here rendering in this Roll of Honor.

The greater number of volunteers from Illinois in the Mexican War were enrolled from the southern districts of the state, chiefly from Alton, Quincy, Shawneetown, Belleville and Springfield. There were many enlistments, however, from Chicago and neighboring towns in northern Illinois, but the record of the Adjutant General's office are very incomplete in showing the origin of enlistments. There were many enlistments from the state at large in the regular army but their original places of residence are not given.

THE CIVIL WAR

A history of the great Civil War will not be attempted in this work. It is enough for our purpose to say that beginning with the firing upon Fort Sumter, April 12, 1861, it ended by the surrender of Gen. Lee's army to Gen. Grant April 9, 1865. This period of our history is so well known to our readers, many of whom took part in it, that an adequate history would require a space far beyond the scope of this work. It will be taken for granted that the Civil War and its leading events are well known to all of us and only a few episodes will be touched upon, and only brief mention will be made of some of its heroes whose names are in some way associated with Cook County.

Oakwood Cemetery, situated on Milwaukee Avenue, in West Northfield, is the only cemetery in the Forest Preserves where soldiers are buried.

Stephen A. Douglas—Proof of His Loyalty

(Extract from speech of Stephen A. Douglas at the Wigwam in Chicago, May 1, 1861. This was his last public speech. His death occurred June 3, 1861.)

"This is no time for the detail of causes. The conspiracy is now known; armies have been raised—war is levied to accomplish it. There are only two sides to the question. Every man must be for the United States or against it. There can be no neutrals in this war; only patriots or traitors."

As Mr. Douglas was lying on his death bed at the Tremont House his last message was delivered in these words: "Tell my children to obey the laws and support the Constitution of the United States." These words are inscribed on his monument.

Col. James A. Mulligan

There stands at Calvary Cemetery just inside the gates a noble monument erected to the memory of Col. James A. Mulligan, who gave up his life at the battle of Kernstown, Virginia, July 26, 1864, in the cause of the Union. Col. Mulligan in his boyhood lived with his stepfather, Michael Lantry, on a farm near the present village of Gross Point. His stepfather was a teaming contractor in Chicago and gave young Mulligan a good education at the University of St. Mary's after which he entered on the practice of law.

At the breaking out of the Civil War he raised a company of volunteers which joined with other companies formed the 23rd regiment of Illinois volunteers. So many of its members were of Irish families that the regiment became known as "The Irish Brigade," and Mulligan became its colonel. The regiment was sent to Missouri and almost at once was engaged in an active campaign against Gen. Sterling Price. The Union force of which Col. Mulligan's regiment formed a part was obliged to surrender to the overwhelming forces of the Confederates but he with his regiment were soon after paroled. The regiment was soon after reorganized and joined the Army of the Potomac with which it continued until the end of the war.

At the battle of Kernstown, near Winchester, in Virginia, Col. Mulligan was mortally wounded and died two days afterwards, namely July 26, 1864. His body was brought to Chicago and lay in state at Bryan Hall, where it was visited by thousands of sorrowing friends. The funeral was the largest that had ever taken place in Chicago. The remains were taken to Calvary, and in 1883 the legislature of this state made an appropriation of $2,500 for a monument. This amount was doubled by the subscriptions of patriotic citizens. His last words when taken up by devoted comrades on the field of battle were: "Lay me down and save the Flag." Mr. George F. Root, the famous song writer, composed the music of the song of which these words were the refrain, and the song had an immense popularity which continues to the present time. Col. Mulligan was thirty-four years of age at the time of his death and he is worthily remembered as one of the distinguished heroes of the war.

The conduct of the "Irish Brigade" at the battle of Lexington in Missouri where it was obliged to yield to a greatly superior force, inspired a poet whose verses are printed in "Putnam's Rebellion Record," some of which are here given:

"The Irish boys are bold and brave,
The Irish boys are true;
They loved the dear old Stars and Stripes,
The spangled field of blue.

"'Tis Mulligan can tell the tale
Of how they fought that day,
When with the foe at Lexington
They met in bloody fray.

"Fast flew the shot and murderous shell,
The bullets fell like rain;
But dauntless stood his brave brigade—
The heroes of the plain."

Address Delivered at the Dedication of the Cemetery at Gettysburg, November 19, 1863

FOUR-SCORE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this; but, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we can not hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

The Douglas Monument is situated at the foot of 33th street, in the square called Douglas Memorial Park, Chicago, Illinois.

After the inauguration of President Lincoln, Senator Stephen A. Douglas came back to Illinois to deliver speeches to encourage the citizens, in general, to support the administration in the defense of the union. A portion of the speech he delivered, a short time before his death, is: "THIS IS NO TIME FOR THE DETAILS OF CAUSES. The conspiracy is known: armies have been raised—war is levied to accomplish it. There are only two sides to the question. Every man must be for the United States or against it. There can be no neutrals in this war; only patriots or traitors."

The following sentence is inscribed on his monument: "Tell my children to obey the laws and uphold the constitution."

WORK OF THE WOMEN IN THE CIVIL WAR

During the Civil War, from 1861 to 1865, the women of the Northern states together with the loyal citizens everywhere organized the Sanitary Commission in every village and township for the purpose of gathering supplies of fresh vegetables and dainty food to be sent to the soldiers in the field and writing them letters of encouragement. Also in preparing bandages, and lint for use in hospitals or wherever the wounded or injured were cared for.

This work was much appreciated and it encouraged the men in the field to do their duty to their country and the flag, to a greater extent than has ever been recorded in the annals of our history. Much could be written on this subject but it would be impossible to give full credit to the many sacrifices and prayerful consideration for the boys in the field who were fighting for the perpetuation of the liberty-formed nation that was adopted by Washington.

Not too much can be said in behalf of the women of America. Their anxieties and suffering were of a different character from those of the men in the field who slept on the bare ground or in the mud and water of the trenches. They in their homes and in their comfortable surroundings spent many and many sleepless nights in wondering where their boys were at night.

Among the great number of hospital nurses who labored with the sick of the Western armies is especially to be mentioned Miss Lizzie Aiken, known to the soldiers as "Aunt Lizzie." With her was associated Mrs. Sturgis, known as "Mother Sturgis." One of the patients under their care wrote afterwards that "nursing was fully as important as medicine." These devoted women with their soft voices and sympathetic conversation seemed to the suffering soldiers like "Angels of Light."

A distinguished leader in the work of relief for wounded soldiers in the Civil War was Clara Barton who in later years became the founder and first president of the American Red Cross. She followed the noble example which had been set by Florence Nightingale many years before our Civil War, who it will be remembered bore a prominent part in the relief of soldiers in the Crimean War. Her advice and counsel were of great value and assistance to the women workers in our war of 1861-1865.

Of especial interest to the residents of Chicago and the County of Cook was the work of Mrs. A. H. Hoge, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore and Mrs. Bickerdyke (affectionately called "Mother Bickerdyke"), whose history is narrated in a well known volume, "The Women of the War." Many others, men as well as women, bore a leading part in the work of the Sanitary Commission in furnishing articles of food not provided by the government at that time when all that the soldiers had was their regular campaign rations of "hard tack," pork and beans, coffee and an occasional allowance of sugar. By means of a specially organized service the men in the hospitals were supplied with a great variety of delicate food and placed under the care of skilled nurses who ministered to their comfort, thus saving the lives of thousands who otherwise must have perished from wounds and diseases. The very interesting history of the work of the Sanitary Commission would require much more space than can be given to it here.

THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR

The Spanish-American War began April 21, 1898, and ended August 13, in the same year. It thus lasted for a period of one hundred and fourteen days. The number killed in the army and navy during the war was 297, and including those who died of disease the total number was 2,910.

THE WORLD WAR

The participation of the United States in the World War began with the declaration of Congress April 6, 1917, that a state of war existed between the United States and Germany. It ended when the Armistice was signed November 11, 1918.

No sooner had the soldiers of the United States been gathered together in the different camps for drill that they might be prepared for service across the ocean to aid the struggling nations from being dominated by a ruthless foe, than the women and men seemed to vie with each other to see what they could do to encourage the boys who were to be sent abroad many of whom never to return. They began to form knitting societies, cigarette organizations, societies to send safety razors, sweaters, caps, stockings, mufflers,—in fact everything pertaining to the comfort of the soldiers. Every other occupation in line among the women and men of America was set aside for the interest of the American soldier until the Armistice was signed, November 11, 1918.

Final revised figures of casualties during the war, compiled by the War Department and published in the Home Sector, show that the total American dead is placed at 77,118 and the total wounded at 221,050. Other classifications bring the grand total of American casualties to 302,612. Here is the summary—it is worth preserving.

By express wish of next of kin, in all cases, 50,000 of those who lost their lives in the World War will be brought to America. The government had 6,000 agents engaged in this stupendous work of removing the soldiers' remains to the United States. Between 30,000 to 35,000 soldiers will be left in foreign cemeteries.

The World War cost the United States $22,000,000,000. In addition they made loans to the allies to the amount of $10,000,000,000.

The following letter was addressed to Capt. E. R. Lewis by the Adjutant General Chief of Staff, C. E. Black, giving the statistics in regard to the participation of Cook County in the World War.

State of Illinois
Military and Naval Department
Springfield

March 14, 1922.

My dear Captain:—

With reference to your letter of February 27 which I have had referred to Colonel Lang, Chief of the Division of War Records of this office for his opinion and an estimate, I am furnishing you his estimates which are as follows:

"The Provost Marshal General's report dated December, 1918, shows there were inducted from Cook County . . . . .	89,073
(Probably it should be slightly in excess of that.)
"Credit given by the Adjutant General of the Army for enlistments in the Nat'l Guard to June 30, 1917. . . . .	9,598
"Credit given by the Adjutant General of the Army for enlistments in the Regular Army to June 30, 1917. . . . .	6,322
"We have no tabulation for the Navy but the State of Illinois furnished approximately 40,000 men and in my judgment one-half of these would have been from Cook County on account of its being adjacent to Lake Michigan. . . . .	20,000
"We have no tabulation for enlistments in the Regular Army and National Guard after June 30, 1917, but in my opinion this figure would be at least . . . . .	12,000
"We have no tabulated record of the number of Marines who enlisted from Cook County, but I think a close guess would be about . . . . .	3,500
"Total . . . . .	140,493"

It must be understood that these are only guesses and are not accurate figures and if published it should be so stated.

Yours very truly,

C. E. Black,
The Adjutant General,
Chief of Staff.

Captain E. R. Lewis,
Superintendent, Records Burial Places,
Soldiers and Sailors,
7458 Normal Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Monument of the Bohemian American Veterans of the Civil War, 1861-1865, at Bohemian National Cemetery.

Monument of George H. Thomas Post,
No, 5, situated at Rosehill Cemetery.

The Post purchased, A. D. 1894, a desirable lot in Rosehill Cemetery and erected thereon a monument, of which the above is a representation. The monument is a rough stone, 12 feet 4 inches high, 4 feet 2 inches at the base, weighing 33,900 pounds. In addition to the inscription shown above there are chiseled the appropriate words: "The Rock of Chickamauga." Erected 1894.

The Song: "ILLINOIS"

By thy rivers, gently flowing,
    Illinois, Illinois,
O'er thy prairies, verdant growing,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Comes an echo on the breeze,
Rustling through the leafy trees,
And its mellow tones are these,
    Illinois, Illinois,
And its mellow tones are these,
    Illinois.

From a wilderness of prairies,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Straight thy way and never varies,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Till upon the inland Sea,
Stands thy great commercial tree
Turning all the world to Thee,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Turning all the world to Thee,
    Illinois.

When you heard your country calling,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Where the shot and shell were falling,
    Illinois, Illinois,
When the Southern Host withdrew,
Pitting gray against the blue,
There were none more brave than you,
    Illinois, Illinois,
There were none more brave than you,
    Illinois.

Not without thy wondrous story,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Can be writ the Nation's glory,
    Illinois, Illinois,
On the record of thy years,
Abr'am Lincoln's name appears,
Grant, and Logan, and our tears,
    Illinois, Illinois,
Grant, and Logan, and our tears,
    Illinois.

Song of "Illinois" composed by C. H. Chamberlain, member of U. S. Grant Post No. 28, G. A. R. of Illinois, a Private in Company B, 3 U. S. Infantry, and discharged as Hospital Steward, May 22, 1865. He died September 15, 1894, and was buried in grave S½, lot 32, section 4, Forest Home Cemetery, Chicago, Illinois.

MEMORIAL DAY—ITS ORIGIN AND OBSERVANCE

In an article printed in April, 1921, Comrade E. R. Lewis gave some interesting details regarding the origin of Memorial Day as it is now observed by the Grand Army of the Republic throughout the country.

"Before May 30, 1867," writes Mr. Lewis, "Memorial Day, upon which we decorate the graves of soldiers of the Civil War, there had been only a partial observance of such a day in some of the states, notably among the loyal people of the South. In Chicago, the soldiers and citizens, on the last Sunday in May, 1867, visited the cemeteries and strewed flowers on the soldiers' graves. On May 5, 1868, Gen. John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order that the 30th of May of each year should be designated as a day for the decoration of the soldiers' graves with such observances as each Grand Army Post might think suitable." Since that time Memorial Day has been regularly observed, and in the work Comrade Lewis has been prominent.

"Up to 1884," writes Mr. Lewis, "there was no system of recording the names and locating the burial places of the dead of the Civil War in Cook County except Lyons Post, No. 9, which kept a record of those buried in Graceland cemetery. In 1884, while living at Evanston, I began a systematic visitation of the different cemeteries and collection of names. Since then I have applied myself to this task with the end in view that the grave of no hero of the Civil War should be left unmarked."

It is interesting to note in this connection that in Oakwoods Cemetery there are some 4,457 Confederate soldiers buried who died while prisoners of war at Camp Douglas during the Civil War. In the same lot with these bodies are the graves of twelve Union soldiers properly marked with headstones and all the graves, both Union and Confederate, are decorated every Memorial Day. The lot is cared for by the government.

"When this work was started," says Mr. Lewis, "there were less than 1,000 soldiers buried in Cook County, but now we decorate the graves of about 9,000 soldiers of the Civil War and 4,457 Confederate soldiers who died while prisoners of war."

Beginning of the Work of the Memorial Association

In the beginning of the work of the Memorial Association Comrade E. R. Lewis, as chairman of the committee appointed "to ascertain the location of all soldiers' graves within Cook County," sent out a printed circular from the headquarters of the Association addressed to the Union soldiers of the county. A copy of this circular follows:

"Headquarters of the Memorial Association of Cook County; Chicago, January 20th, 1888.

"To the Union Soldiers of Cook County:

"Comrades:—The Committee that was appointed one year ago by the Memorial Association to ascertain the location of all soldiers' graves within Cook County, are desirous of doing their full duty, and ask the aid of every old soldier to enable them to do so.

"Notwithstanding the care exercised by the Grand Army of the Republic, many graves each year are neglected because they are unreported and unknown. To remedy this neglect, and to make a complete record of all names and places of burial, this work has been undertaken. It is intended after such record is finished, that it be entered within a Memorial Book, to be kept in the Memorial Hall, and it is hoped that much may be accomplished before the coming Memorial Day, that upon the 30th of May, next, as well as each succeeding anniversary, every soldier's grave may be suitably decorated.

"All who can furnish one or more names, with location, will confer a favor by notifying the chairman of the Committee.

"E. R. Lewis, Evanston, Ill."

Attached to each copy of the circular was a blank for the purpose of supplying the desired information, with a request that it be filled out and returned to the chairman. In connection with the work three other circulars were also sent out.

First Memorial Day

Resuming the historical account of Comrade E. R. Lewis we quote substantially as follows:

"Upon the morning of May 30th, 1868, the comrades and citizens met in the grounds about the old Court House in Chicago. There were present upon that first Memorial Day of Cook County the following commanding officers and comrades: Gen. Solomon, chief marshal; Generals Phil Sheridan, Reynolds, Osborn, Brown and Beveridge, and Comrades A. J. Mikseh, E. E. Lynch, R. W. Eastman, J. A. Straub, James Gaffney, D. S. Bolkon, J. C. Wintermyer, R. P. Wilson, E. R. Lewis, A. F. Wolcott, T. M. Batty, and many others.

"Most of these were aided by their families in the work of making wreaths and other emblems. The comrades proceeded to Calvary, Graceland, Oakwoods and the main ceremony was conducted at Rosehill, where the Rev. Robert Collyer was the speaker of the day. From the time when Memorial Day was established until 1888 the flowers used were purchased at a cost of about $250 yearly. At that time it was suggested that the aid of the school children be obtained to collect the flowers growing in the 'big timber' on the North Branch of the Chicago river, and since that time no flowers have been purchased by the Grand Army for the school children have gathered all that were needed.

"In 1884, the citizens decorated the graves in seven cemeteries in Cook County; in 1920 we decorated 87 cemeteries where soldiers were buried. The noble work of decorating the graves of all soldiers of all wars in America and its island possessions will no doubt be more thorough each year as time passes with the aid of the Spanish War veterans and the members of the American Legion. The graves of soldiers will also be remembered in all nations where sleeps an American soldier. On one of the recent Memorial days Mr. William Hazelton of Chicago sent twenty-four American flags to Belfast, in Ireland, to be placed over the graves of World War men who are buried there.

Observance of Memorial Day Since 1872

"In 1872," continues Mr. Lewis, "the Memorial Day was generally observed by the citizens and soldiers. Dr. F. A. Emmons was president and Guy T. Gold was acting as secretary. Major Robert M. Wood was elected chief marshal, and the following persons were appointed to take charge of the exercises in the following cemeteries: R. S. Thompson, Oakwoods; J. J. Healey, Calvary; I. P. Rumsey, Graceland, and John Stevens, Rosehill.

"The year 1873 was the banner year for the great demonstration of enthusiasm of the citizens and soldiers of Chicago. Gen. John McArthur was elected permanent chairman, and J. M. Gitman secretary. A finance committee of twenty-five persons were selected. This finance committee gathered $1,864.90, and the balance of the funds from 1872 added to this made a total of $2,328.60, and the amount of the expenses was $2,206.60. The total amount expended for flowers and evergreens was $962.89, some 291 boxes of flowers having been secured. After 1886 the amount expended each year for Memorial Day exercises has averaged $225.

This appeal was responded to in a very gratifying manner and the responses have continued to the present time, so that the records that have now been accumulated represent an advanced stage of the work through, as yet, it is far from forming a complete record. The movement in general has been recognized by the state administration and suitable legislation has been made to care for its continuance. Comrade Lewis is designated in the official correspondence of the Adjutant General's office as "Superintendent of the Records of Burial Places of Soldiers and Sailors."

THE HISTORY OF COOK COUNTY MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

"With a cheer on the tongue and a tear in the eye,
With songs on the lip, while the heart hides a sigh;
With gladness we come, though in spirit we're weeping,
To garland the graves where our heroes are sleeping."

Before May 30, 1867, Memorial Day, upon which day we decorate the graves of soldiers of the Civil War, there had been only a partial observance of such a day in some of the states, notably among the loyal people of the South. The desire for such an observance seemed to rise almost spontaneously, from a prevailing feeling of love and gratitude towards the nation's dead, and for a desire for expression. In Chicago, the soldiers and citizens, on the last Sunday in May, 1867, visited the cemeteries and strewed flowers on the soldiers' graves. On May 5, 1868, General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued an order that the 30th of May of each year should be designated as a day for the decoration of the soldiers' graves, with such observances as each Grand Army Post might think suitable.

Upon the morning of May 30, 1867, the comrades and citizens met in the grounds about the old court house. There were present upon that first Memorial Day of Cook County the following commanding officers and comrades: Gen. Solomon, Chief Marshal; Generals Phil Sheridan, Reynolds, Osborn, Brown and Beveridge, and Comrades A. J. Mikseh, E. E. Lynch, R. W. Eastman, J. A. Straub, James Gaffney, D. S. Bolkon, J. C. Wintermeyer, R. P. Wilson, E. R. Lewis, A. F. Wolcott, T. M. Batty, and many others. Most of these were aided by their families in the work of making wreaths and other emblems. The comrades proceeded to Calvary, Grace-land, Oakwoods, and the main ceremony was conducted at Rose-hill, where the Rev. Robert Collyer was the speaker of the day. The flowers that were sent to the cemetery the day before were guarded by details of the comrades all the night of the 29th.

Up to 1884 there was no system of recording the names and locating the burial places of the dead of the Civil War in Cook County, except Lyons Post No. 9, which kept a record of those buried in Graceland. In 1884, while living at Evanston, I began a systematic visitation of the different cemeteries and collection of names. Since then I have applied myself to this task with the end in view that the grave of no hero of the Civil War should be left unmarked.

In February, 1887, at the State Encampment at Rockford, a resolution was passed to the effect that each post report to the Adjutant General a roll of the dead; and about 150 names were reported the following year. From the time when Memorial Day was established until 1888 the flowers used were bought from Mrs. George Snyder of Cobden, Illinois, located in the southern part of the state at a cost of about $250 yearly. From a suggestion made to an answer to Comrade E. R. Lewis' letter to John Brown of Northfield to enlist the school children to collect the flowers in the big timber on the north branch river, grew the idea of enlisting the aid of the school children in the public schools of Chicago to gather the flowers for the Grand Army of the Republic to strew on the graves of the soldiers buried in and around Chicago. Since that time no flowers have been purchased by the Grand Army, for the pupils of the city of Chicago have gathered all that were needed.

When this work was started there were less than 1,000 soldiers buried in Cook County, but now we decorate the graves of about 7,500 soldiers of the Civil War and 4,250 Confederate soldiers, who died at Camp Douglas while there as prisoners of war. The Government of the United States keeps the lot where these soldiers are buried in, in good order; there are also buried in this lot twelve Union soldiers whose graves are properly marked by headstones, so that here lie, side by side in peace, the Blue and the Gray.

In 1884 the citizens decorated seven cemeteries in Cook County; in 1920 we decorated 87 cemeteries where soldiers are buried. The noble work of decorating the graves of soldiers of all wars in America and its islands no doubt will be more thorough and impressive than even in this year with the aid of Spanish War Veterans and members of the American Legion. They will be also remembered in all nations where sleeps an American soldier. Mr. Wm. Hazleton of Normal Avenue, Chicago, sent 24 American flags to Belfast, in Ulster, Ireland, to be placed over the graves of the 22 World War boys that are buried in the church yard there.

In 1872 the Memorial Day was generally observed by the citizens and soldiers. Dr. F. A. Emmons was president, and Guy T. Gold was acting as Secretary; Major Robert M. Wood was elected Chief Marshal, and the following were appointed to take charge of the exercises in the following cemeteries: R. S. Thompson, Oakwoods; J. J. Healey, Calvary; I. P. Rumsey, Graceland, and John Stevens, Rosehill. The year 1873 was the banner year in which the greatest demonstration and enthusiasm of the citizens and soldiers of Chicago were shown. General John McArthur was elected permanent chairman, and J. M. Gitman, secretary. A finance committee of 25 persons was selected. This finance committee gathered $1,864.90, and the balance of funds from 1872 added to this made a total of $2,328.60, and the amount of expenses was $2,206.60. The total amount expended for flowers, evergreens, etc., was $962.89; 291 boxes of flowers were secured.

Up to 1884, the citizens of Chicago had taken charge of the decorating of the soldiers' graves; since then the Grand Army has had full control of the Memorial exercises in Cook County. I will quote the amount expended by the Grand Army each year. In 1880, $384.80; 1881, $361.20; 1882, $262.53; 1883, $831.39; 1884, $929.34; 1885, $518.97; 1886, $375.20. We had previous to that

U. S. Grant Post No. 28, G. A. R.,
Elmwood Cemetery.

The monument rests on a base 8 feet square; a second base 6 feet 2 inches square, with a third base 6 feet square and 4 feet high, which is subdivided into four pedestals, one each facing the cardinal points of the compass, and carrying statues representing the infantry, cavalry, artillery and naval branches of the military service, each figure standing 5 feet 10 inches high.

$6,301.60. In 1886 the amount was reduced to $3,500 and the Association voted that hereafter the expense for the Memorial Day exercises be only $225 each year.

I doubt whether the citizens of any county, city or state in the Union have been more active than we have been in keeping alive this noble and patriotic devotion to the principles for which these heroes died, or have tried to a greater degree to inculcate into the minds of the younger generation the great and noble work that they did during the War of 1861 to 1865, in bringing the Southern States back into the Union and keeping the country from being divided, so that we now have developed into a world-wide power.

The name of the corporation shall be "The Grand Army of the Republic Memorial Association of Cook County," with headquarters at Chicago, Illinois.

Eligibility to Membership

The membership of the Memorial Association shall be composed of the present and past Post Commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic and present and post Presiding Officers of all other veteran organizations and Sons of Veterans in Cook County, and one delegate from each post of the Grand Army of the Republic, and one delegate for each twenty-five members or majority fraction thereof; one delegate from each other organization; and one delegate for each fifty members or majority fraction thereof.

The Object of the Organization

The object of the Grand Army Memorial Association of Cook County shall be "The arranging for the proper observance of Memorial Day."

Officers

All members of the Association in good standing shall be eligible to any office except the office of Commander which shall be held by a member of the Grand Army of the Republic only.

Meetings

The Association shall hold at least one regular meeting in the months of February, March, April, May and June of each year. Special meeting may be provided for at any regular meeting, or may be called at the discretion of the Council of Administration. The Council of Administration shall meet at the place of meeting before the hour set for the meeting of the Association to audit bills and transact such other business as appertains to their duties.

The Commander shall appoint the following standing committees: A committee on Visitation of the Public Schools who shall obtain permission from the Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools of Cook County for Union veterans of the Civil War, veterans of the Spanish War, Sons of Union Veterans, and of the World War, to visit the Public Schools and speak if requested to do so by the principal.

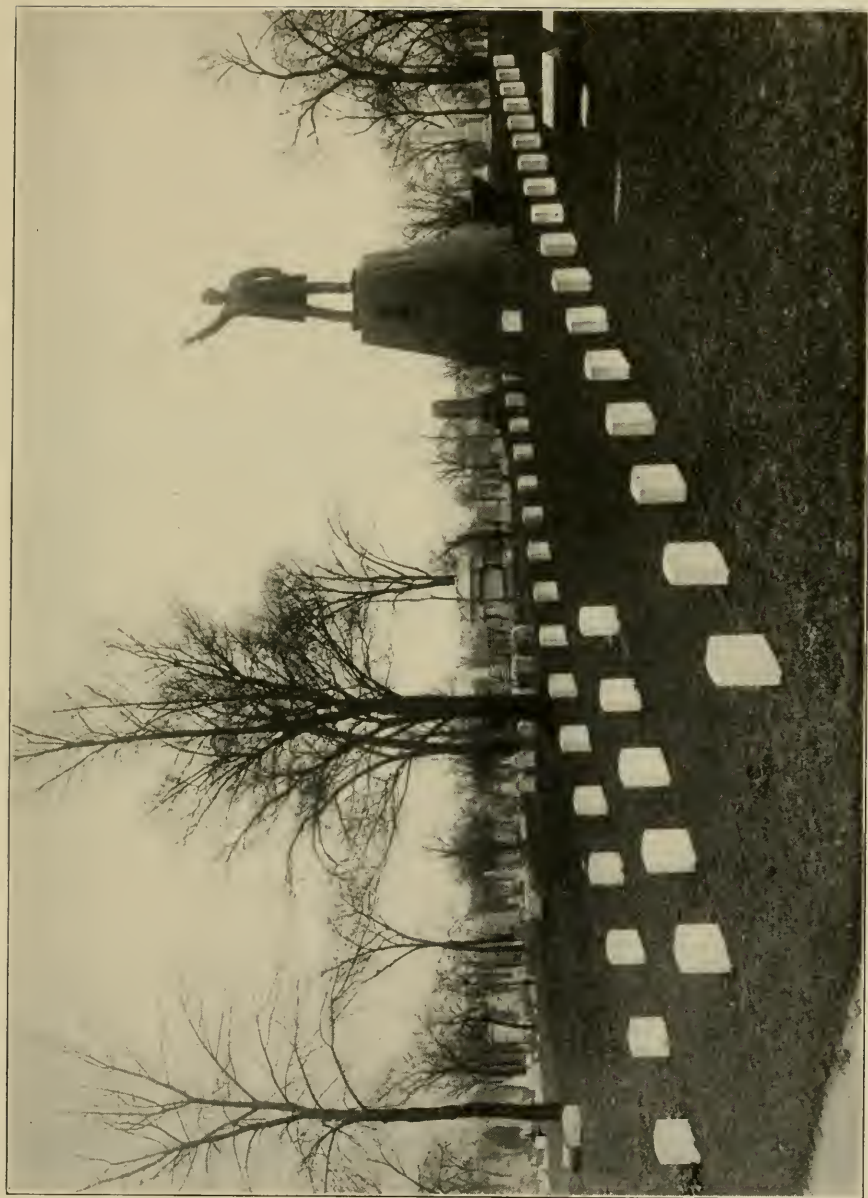

A committee Chairman on Flags and Flowers, and one from each Post and other organizations connected with the Association which shall provide necessary flags and flowers with which to decorate the graves of deceased comrades, and distribute same to the different cemeteries.

A committee on Cemeteries and Locations of the graves of Soldiers, Sailors and Marines in Cook County.

The Commander shall also appoint a Registrar who shall keep a record of all veterans buried in Cook County, and report to the Association at its first stated meeting.

The Council of Administration shall arrange for the Memorial Day parade, select the Chief Marshal for the same and perform such other duties as may be required by the Association. On account of the different organizations with their committees taking charge of the decoration of the soldiers' graves in the city and county in the forenoon, the parade is held on May 30 at 3 o'clock p. m., so that all the veteran organizations can take part after their laudable custom in placing the flags and flowers on the graves of their heroes.

Seventy-five to one hundred thousand people attend these exercises in the different cemeteries in the city of Chicago annually. The children of the Chicago Public Schools furnish all the flowers that are needed for the use of the committee in decorating the graves with flowers which are so generously given to the Cook County Memorial Association annually.

Lincoln Post No. 91, Grand Army of the Republic, Monument and Lot, Oakwoods Cemetery.

“ROLL OF HONOR”

We publish in this book by townships and cemeteries 11,922 names of soldiers who died in Cook County, and their military record furnished so far as possible to the Cook County Memorial Association.

There are also buried in Oakwoods Cemetery 4457 Confederate soldiers that died at Camp Douglas while prisoners of war from '61 to '65—making a total of 16,379 Union and Confederate Soldiers that have died in Cook County.

“Oh, wrap him in that banner proud,
To keep whose honor bright he died;
None other fit for soldiers' shroud
Than our flag of stars—our nation's pride!

And lay his sword down by his side,
Its work is well and nobly done;
Our flag today floats high with pride—
The glorious battle's dearly won.”

WORLD WAR

---

“Fear not that you have died for naught,
The torch ye threw to us we caught ;
Ten million hands hold it high,
And Freedom’s light shall never die !
We’ve learned the lesson that ye taught
In Flanders Fields.”

The names of deceased soldiers furnished since 1884, are published in this book, and are authentic, as far as I know.

E. R. Lewis, Superintendent Burial Records of Soldiers and Sailors in State of Illinois.

“How sleep the brave who sink to rest
By all their country’s wishes blest:
When Spring with dewy fingers cold
Returns to deck their hallowed mold
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy’s feet have ever trod.

“By fairy hands their knell is rung;
By forms unseen their dirge is sung;
There Honor comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay;
And Freedom shall awhile repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there!”

—William Collins.
